

DT Assignment of 2nd Week

- Title of the Book: My Little Epiphanies
- Publisher of the Book: Bloomsbury Publishing
- Author of the Book: Aisha Chaudhary
- Domain of the Book: Autobiography

- Five keywords you will describe the book:

Motivation, Strength, Perspective, Emotion & Point of View.

- Summary of the book (In a nutshell what is mentioned in the book):

In "My Little Epiphanies," Aisha Chaudhary shares her own story of living with a serious illness. She talks about the difficult parts of her life and the lessons she learned from them. Aisha's book is about how she stayed strong and found happiness even when things were tough. It's a reminder that life is precious and that we can find strength in ourselves during hard times.

- The thing you liked the most about the book:

Aisha Chaudhary's sincerity in sharing her challenges and the wisdom she gained from them is deeply moving.

- The thing you will change about the book:

If I could change "My Little Epiphanies," I'd imagine a story where Aisha Chaudhary didn't pass away. This way, her inspiring journey would continue, giving hope and strength to others.

- If you are to write a similar book, give the title you will name it: Forgotten Love

- List the contents for your book (with reference to the book you read in this class):
(1) Author's Note – (2) Dedication – (3) My Little Epiphanies/Forgotten Love – (4) Thank You.

- Your book will address which readers: It is for people who want to feel inspired and learn from someone facing life's tough moments with courage.